

Maine

American Fuel & Petrochemical Manufacturers (AFPM) is the leading trade association representing the producers of the fuels that keep Americans moving, the makers of petrochemicals that are the building blocks for modern life, and the midstream infrastructure operators responsible for safely and efficiently transporting petroleum and petrochemical products. Our industries make life in Maine better, safer and more productive.

Economic Impact

Contribution to Economy

Federal Taxes

State & Local Taxes

Workforce

Total Employment

Refinery Worker Salary & Benefits²

Chemical Worker Salary & Benefits²

Nationally, jobs in our industries earn nearly double the $55,338 average salary of a U.S. worker.³

1. IMPLAN 2017 data. | 2. Salary & Benefits represent: total payroll cost of the employee paid by the employer, including wage, benefits (e.g., health, retirement), and employer & employee share of payroll taxes (e.g., social security, unemployment taxes, etc.). | 3. U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

For more information about AFPM, our members and our industries, visit afpm.org or contact us at Outreach@AFPM.org or 202.457.0480

U.S. Refineries & Petrochemical Facilities

There are 131 operable refineries and 312 petrochemical manufacturing units in the United States.

77 refineries produce gasoline, diesel, jet fuel and other products

54 refineries produce gasoline and other fuels, while base petrochemicals are produced at

186 petrochemical units co-located with the refineries

126 standalone petrochemical units produce base petrochemicals